

The Malta Association of Professional Conservator-Restorers

Started in 2007, The Malta Association of Professional Conservator-Restorers was born with the intent of being the lead voice for the profession in Malta, bringing together academically qualified and experienced professional conservator-restorers who abide by the code of ethics.

The Association recently helped with the rewriting of the Cultural Heritage Act in order to regulate the profession through a national warrant for professionals in the field.

MAPCo-Re was set up to promote the professional maintenance, preservation, conservation, and restoration in a scientific and ethical manner of Cultural Heritage, within Malta. It is committed to improve the understanding of and access to the safeguarding of cultural heritage.

In 2013, MAPCo-Re was also officially accepted as a full member of the Malta Federation of Professional Associations (MFPA) and as a full member of ECCO (European Confederation of Conservator-Restorer's Organisations).
